SARAH'S BIO

Voted as one of Utah's 30 Women to Watch and winner of a Silver Stevie Award for Lifetime Achievement in the Direct Selling Industry, Sarah is a dynamic Sales & and Network Marketing Executive with over 33 years of industry experience.

From small companies to billion-dollar companies, she has built high performing teams in each of her roles. Her vast experience includes 13 years in corporate offices across North America as well as 20 years building entrepreneurial businesses in the field.

Sarah most recently left her position as the President of North America for a multi-billion-dollar company and now is building her own brand, The BWELL Company. Her goal is to help women 'thrive' in the second half of their life, not just 'survive'!

Sarah is passionate about helping others succeed; no matter the role. And as such, she has grown a fast moving network marketing business with over 100,000 customers and leaders producing $45 Million dollars in annual sales, in just the last 3 years! Her team was built 100% through online platforms with almost no social media following or knowledge.

She's most known for her energy and ability to inspire almost anyone she meets, but the real secret behind her success is building strategy and vision and helping others see themselves in it.

Sarah Currently lives in Draper, UT with her husband and two children and enjoys serving as a Wellness Coach wherever she has the opportunity!
